Welcome January

Parent Bulletin

Happy New Year! I am excited to enter yet another year with your children. Have a wonderful start to 2008 and remember LOCC will be closed on the 1st for the holiday.

This month we will explore winter! We will discuss what animals hibernate and which ones are nappers and snackers. We will have another Pajama Day/Popcorn Party since the children have been asking about it. We will be playing with snow on the kitchen table and attempting to make mini snowmen. January will be an enjoyable month to start the New Year!

Baby Steps!

Our babies are quickly becoming pre-toddlers! One is sitting unsupported and the other is pulling up to a stand and crawling all over the place! We will still be working on our leg exercises to get ready to support weight on our own. The babies will also be practice walking with help to get those steps down pat. Soon we will be working on clapping and waving to begin the hand movement part of our infant curriculum!

Everyone enjoyed our special visit from Santa Claus and the pictures turned out perfect! I want to thank all of the parents for helping make the time we had with him go smoothly. It really turned out great and all of the children had a wonderful time!

Book Selections

Here is some suggested reading for you and your child this month. Read to your child often to help create a love for reading! Studies show that children who are read to as a child are more avid readers themselves!
