

Lots of Cuddles & Care

Newsletter

Welcome May

Finally, the weather is nice enough to spend our days out in the sun! Please still bring jackets until the weather evens out a bit more and we can expect nice days. We will have a Field Day on May 22nd where your children will be doing a number of different skills such as: kicking a ball, hopping on one foot, etc. I will keep track of the skill as well as how many were done per child for them to record in their Field Day Booklet. Due to the wonderful days for us to enjoy outside, we will be reading our books on the preschool days instead of alternating days. Also, this will be our last newsletter until August when my fall/winter program starts up again. We will still be doing activities during the summer although; it will not be a structured curriculum as the rest of the year. We are tired of the cold, and welcome spring and summer with open arms!

Book Selections

Here is some suggested reading for you and your child this month. Read to your child often to help create a love for reading! Studies show that children who are read to as a child are more avid readers themselves!
